Roman and Germanic Days

Pentecost weekend, June 9 and 10, 2019
10:00 am until 6:00 pm

Take a trip to a time long past: You are invited to attend Kalkriese's Roman and Germanic Days on the pentecost weekend. Roman riders, legionnaires, Germanic archers, merchants and craftspeople let you participate in how they lived 2,000 years ago—on the original historical site. Their camps are teeming with life, and numerous performances transform history into a tangible as well as tasteable experience. They will feature all kinds of goods that can also be purchased, and the Roman cookshop will treat you to delicious food based on original recipes from the Antique. We also invite you to explore and participate in a wide range of join-in events and children's programs.

ROME'S LEGIONS

Setting the Big Stage for Tiny Tin Romans – Realistic Details in a Unique Diorama Show

What did a Roman legionnaire's everyday life look like? How long were his daily marches, where did he sleep, what was on his menu, and how much luggage did he carry with him?

Answers to these and other questions can be found in the new special exhibition ROME'S LEGIONS, where thousands of hand-painted miniature tin legionnaires and lifelike [re-]claim Kalkriese. Detailed models and illustrations paint a vivid picture of the Roman army and its organizational structure during the conquests around the time of Christ's birth.

A program of lectures, guided tours and offers for families and holiday children completes the exhibition.

Public guided tours of the special exhibition take place on Sundays and public holidays at 4:00 pm.

9 AD. LARGE PARTS OF GERMANIA ARE OCCUPIED BY ROMAN TROOPS WHEN PUBLIUS QUINCTILIUS VARUS AND HIS ARMY ARE AMBUSHED ON THE WAY BACK TO THEIR WINTER CAMP.

THE INSTIGATOR BEHIND THIS CONSPIRACY IS THE CHERUSCAN ARMINIUS.

In only a few days, the 17th, 18th and 19th legion are butchered by Germanic warriors. Their tragic defeat has gone down in history as the »Battle of the Teutoburg Forest« or the »Varus Battle.«

Since the discovery of the Annals of Tacitus in the 16th century, historians have been looking for the actual site of the Varus Battle.

Since 1989, archaeological excavations with the goal of determining the Varus Battle site have been taking place at Kalkriese. The spectacular excavation results and finds are presented in a realistic and exciting way at the museum near Osnabrück.

The Varus Battle Exhibition

... provides a comprehensive overview of 20 years' multidisciplinary research of the Varus Battle at Kalkriese, also known as the »Battle of the Teutoburg Forest«.

Which strategies did the Germanic attackers use? Of which military ranks were the Roman troops composed? What happened after the battle? Archaeologists and natural scientists present the most important finds and put all the facts on the table.
